Palmer to Speak On U. S. and India Wednesday Night

Dr. Norman Dunbar Palmer, chairman of the political science department at the University of Pennsylvania, will speak at the second Ursinus Forum of the year to be held on Wednesday, November 11, at 8:00 p.m.

Dr. Palmer will present an interesting discussion on "United States and India," at which time he will not only answer questions on this subject matter but will relate those questions which have frequently been asked him in India.

Dr. Palmer has just returned from India where he was a visiting Fulbright Professor of Political Science and International Affairs at the University of New Delhi. While in India he visited over eighteen universities. He was also a representative at the U.N.E.S.C.O. meeting in Ceylon. He and Howard C. Perkins have co-authored a book "International Relations" which has very recently been released as a textbook for college use.

MSGA Hears Cheating Case; WSGA Meeting Held, Monday

Faculty Upholds MSGA in First Cheating Case of Year

by Jack Westerhoff '55

The first cheating case of this year came before the MSGA on Monday, November 2. It involved a sophomore in a German 3 quiz who attempted to use his book, but was caught by Dr. Hartzel before he had completed his intention. The case was turned over to the MSGA for action. The defendant was found guilty and it was recommended to the Faculty Committee on Discipline that he be given an "F" in the course and 15 temporary demerits which puts him on probation. This means that any further violation of college rules will be punishable by possible expulsion. This recommendation was upheld by the Faculty Committee on Discipline.

One would think that the intelligent college student would realize, not only that cheating is wrong, but that the faculty are not so naive that they aren't going to discover it and that when one

A Tradition Dies Buried in Snow

Athletic relations between Franklin and Marshall College and Ursinus College have been discontinued. The game, which was cancelled Saturday because of the snow storm, was to have been the last in the series between the two schools. That game will never be played.

Newbury Discusses Argentina In Ursinus Class, Wednesday

Through the courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson Williams Foundation a group of Ursinus students heard Dr. J. Newbury speak on the "Argentine Plains and the Antarctic" last Wednesday. Dr. Newbury, who is an author, explorer, and poet, was introduced by Dr. Charles Lyon Chandler, Professor Emeritus of Ursinus College. In his talk Dr. Newbury spoke of the varied topography of Argentina and of the rigors of Antarctic travel.

Barbershop Quartet Program Postponed Until November 13

Due to the heavy snowfall, "Fantasy in Harmony" featuring the Philadelphia Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America was postponed. The program, sponsored by the Spirit Committee, will now be held in the T-G Gymnasium this Friday night, November 13, at 8:15.

ATTENTION MEN!

Campus Chest Opens Contest

The Campus Chest Committee is looking for a slogan for this year's drive and plans to run a contest from November 9 to November 12. There will be boxes for suggestions in the upper and lower dining halls and in the Supply Store. You may submit as many suggestions as you wish. The winner will receive a box seat at the Student-Faculty Show. Help the committee find a good slogan for the Campus Chest Drive.

On November 16 the students will vote for the organizations they wish to be represented in the drive, which begins November 20, with the Student Faculty Show. The drive ends on December 5.

WSGA Meeting Reveals Cause Of Delay in Student Union

by Pat Garrow '54

The Women's Student Council discussed the student union, announcements, and freshman customs and other things when it met Monday evening in Miss Stahr's office.

The ever-present problem of the student union and what is going on behind the scenes in plans for its construction was brought up first. The president, Jen Price, explained that the entire problem seems to lie in the fact that the engineer does not know what to do with the steam pipes. Consequently, there are no blueprints, and bids for construction cannot be sent out until the blueprints are completed.

Another question in conjunction with the student union was brought up. Why can't the present sophomore class be solicited for funds? Four classes have pledged their breakage fees, but last year there was some damage done in boys' dorms so that a part of that money was automatically forfeited to the school. Although Dr. Helfferich has promised to ignore this deficit, several members felt that the sophomore class would be willing to pledge its breakage fees since it would gain a greater advantage from the student union.

The question of maintenance of the student union was discussed. It had been suggested that the Interfraternity-Intersorority Councils in conjunction with the Y would be responsible for the rooms since they would use them for meetings.

Everyone is urged to support the

Group Play Deemed Success by Reviewer

by Mildred Mistovich '55

An unusually large audience attended the opening play of this year's Curtain Club group productions last Tuesday night. The audience had no reason to regret giving up the necessary time, for The Day After Forever was well worth seeing. The play had all the ingredients necessary for a success: pathos, by the released convict mother who sees her child for the first time in twenty years on her wedding day; dignity, by the foster mother who faces a difficult situation; comedy, by the not too bright, but faithful maid, Ella Lee; romance, by the ecstatic bride and groom—she about love, he about food.

Gayle Auchenbach played the convict mother with much feeling, not overly dramatic, but showing restraint, rather than the emotional portrayal many amateurs would give this role. Her voice fit the part, and with the aid of proper

Alumnus Talks On Anesthesia to Pre-Med Society

by Mary Lou Killheffer '55

Dr. Frank J. Tornetta of Montgomery Hospital and a graduate of Ursinus College in 1938, Hahnemann Medical College and New York University was the speaker at the last meeting of the Brownback-Anders Pre-Med Society on Tuesday, November 3.

Dr. Tornetta, an anesthesiologist, spoke on the functions of such a specialist in hospitals. The speaker gave a brief history of anesthesia, discussing the types of anesthesia and the drugs producing each type. Dr. Tornetta explained oxygen therapy, treatments of drug poisoning, shock treatment and various other treatments. He outlined for his audience the characteristics of an ideal drug as follows: the drug must possess good induction, must be an analgesic, and should relax muscles.

The theory of anesthesia, said Dr. Tornetta, is that drugs are combined to give a balanced anesthesia. One drug does not give all effects.

The speaker concluded his talk with a discussion of anesthesiology as a career. The field offers a most promising future. At present there are 900 certified anesthesiologists in the United States and there are 6000 hospitals. It is a specialty for the young. Research in the field is alive and many drug companies are interested in it. Anesthesiology is now taught as part of the medical curriculum. Anesthesia, said Dr. Tornetta, can always be made safer for society through research and study.

"Shades of Indigo" To Be Prom Theme

Ursinus men and their dates will dance Friday evening, December 11, at the Senior Ball amid "Shades of Indigo" in the Sunnybrook Ballroom, Pottstown, to the music of Johnny Austin and his orchestra.

Pat Frey, chairman of the ball, has announced that the theme will be "Shades of Indigo"; however, the decoration scheme is not yet definite. The dance will begin at 9 o'clock and will end at 1 o'clock.

The following committees have been appointed: decorations, Jen Price and Bev Syvertsen; orchestra, Peggy Kelly and Richie Glock; programs, Kit Stewart and Gene Haag; chaperones, Fran Jahn; tickets, Ted Radomski and Kay Hood; and publicity, Marge Merrifield and Mike Van De Putte.

CHI ALPHA

Tomorrow evening the Chi Alpha Society will meet in the women's day study at 7:00 o'clock. Students particularly interested in Christian work are invited to join the society. The program for the second meeting of the academic year is based on a film strip, "No Easy Answer." A group discussion will be held on the problems presented in the film.

Head of E. and R. Church Is Founders' Day Speaker

DR. JAMES E. WAGNER

Dr. James Edgar Wagner will be the speaker at the Founders' Day exercises, which will be held in Bomberger Chapel at 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, November 10. Dr. Wagner is the newly elected President of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

At these exercises, nine students, who have completed the requirements for graduation at Ursinus, will receive bachelor of arts degrees. They are: Peter Theodore Dolas, William Martin Finan, Harold Richard Jenkins, Alex Koval, J. Russell McConnell Jr., John Thomas Osborne, Mary Ann Simmendinger, Duke Edward Stauffer, and Mildred Elizabeth Swan. Stanley Lawrence Berman and Eleanor Mildred Cloud will receive bachelor of science degrees. The speaker, Dr. Wagner, will be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

IRC to Hear Guest Speaker

Dr. Hans Thalberg, press secretary to the Austrian Embassy, will be guest speaker at an open meeting of the International Relations Club tonight, November 9, at 7:00 o'clock in Bomberger Chapel.

Dr. Thalberg, who will speak on the "Austrian Peace Treaty," has played an active part in the Austrian foreign service since January, 1946, when he was assigned to Washington, D.C. Since then, he has been a member of the Austrian delegation to treaty negotiations in London and has accompanied the Austrian Foreign Minister and Chancellor on trips to the United States.

The IRC invites all students to attend this affair.

"Helena's Husband" is Group II Presentation

The second Curtain Club Group Production, Helena's Husband by Philip Moeller, will be presented on November 17, in the T-G gym. Mizz Test '54 and Frank Brown '56 are directors of this play which, according to them, is something new in group productions—a 3-D show which doesn't require glasses.

The cast includes Nancy Griffin '57 as Helena, Queen of Sparta; Al Wely '55, as Paris, Prince of Troy; Jim Bowers '55, Menelaus, King of Sparta; Butch Helfferich '57, Anaitikos, the king's philosopher; and Jo Ann Myers '56, Tsumo, Helena's maid.

The play is a take-off on a Greek farce concerning the domestic troubles of Menelaus, King of Sparta, and the sudden and conclusive resolution of these difficulties.

Pre-Legal Society To Sponsor Debate on Red China in UN

On Wednesday, November 18, the question, "Should Communist China Be Admitted to the United Nations?" will be debated by a group of Ursinus professors. The debate, which is sponsored by the Pre-Legal Society, will be held at 8:30 in Bomberger with Dr. E. H. Miller acting as moderator. All students and faculty members are cordially invited to attend this discussion.

100 CONTRIBUTE TO FILL URSINUS BLOODMOBILE QUOTA

On Tuesday, November 3, the Red Cross bloodmobile came to Collegeville. About 100 students participated by giving blood, and most of the fraternities and sororities contributed as a group.

Fayne Elsesser and Jack Aregood were co-chairmen of the project which was sponsored by the Y. According to them, the bloodmobile was quite successful and will return to Ursinus sometime in the spring.

Pledgees Sign Fraternity Bids

Friday afternoon bids were given out by the fraternities ending the Fall rushing season. Zeta Chi gave bids to Terry German and Harry Donnelly with German accepting. Beta Sigma Lambda's new members are Bing Arbeola and Jim Simpson while Jack McNeil turned down a bid. Delta Pi Sigma gave bids to George Trollinger, John Singer, Claire Wallick, Bill Tuckerman, Mike Hritz, Pete Perosa and Jack Edson with the latter declining.

Alpha Phi Epsilon's new members are Harvey Levin and Jack Edson with Harry Donnelly rejecting the bid. Sigma Rho gave bids to Chet Frankenfield, Peter Earle, Jack Tomlinson and Jim Simpson with Simpson refusing. Accepting the three Demas bids were Harry Donnelly, Jack McNeil and Hank Knabe.

1955 "Ruby" Editors Are Dedekind, Belz

On Tuesday, November 3, the Junior Class elected Elsie Belz and Roland Dedekind as co-editors of the 1955 Ruby and Kathy Feucht and Larry Zartman as business managers.

The elections for editors and business managers were held earlier this year, with the hope that these staff members will profit by observing the work done this year.

Sometime in the near future the Junior Class will be selling Ursinus mascots. These little stuffed black bears with red ribbon and gold lettering will be sold for $2.50 each. Place your orders with Scotty Gillespie.

Chem Society Hears Talk on Laminar Chart

At the Beardwood Chemical Society meeting last Monday night Mr. Arthur Wrigley showed several slides and spoke on the Laminar Chart. This chart, a classification of the elements according to the arrangement of electrons around the nucleus, is less cumbersome and less confusing than the older periodic charts when used to see how the electrons are arranged in the various "shells" or energy levels.

EDITORIALS

An Open Letter to the Weekly Staff:

This letter is a special notice to all writers and prospective reporters of the Weekly, and will be of interest to all who read the Weekly.

Since early October there has been mild chaos in the basement of Bomberger every Friday afternoon. (This is the "home office" of the Ursinus Weekly, your college newspaper.) Every week a few dependable devote three or four hours of their precious time to collect, write and correct news articles. These articles are supposedly written by the numerous reporters listed in the masthead. However, this is where the difficulty begins, since, every week there are fewer articles written by these reporters.

Complaints have been received by the editors concerning the lack of campus news. We feel that we cannot settle this problem alone. It is up to you to report the news of the campus, and to bring items of interest to the attention of the editors, preferably before the Weekly comes out on Monday night.

We would like to make a special appeal to all Weekly reporters to have more interest in their work. Please report on all your assignments completely. If you have any "scoops" we will be happy to print them. Your opinions on various school rules, organizations or events are of interest to us. We, the editors, want to improve the Weekly, but we need the help of the staff and our readers. Please do not hesitate to offer your criticism, ideas or questions regarding the paper, to the editors. We will thank you for them.

— M. M. K.

Thinking Out Loud

by Bob Armstrong '54

THIS WEEK—FRIDAY THE 13th

This week is one of the weeks which people all over the world hate to see roll around. The questionable reason is that this Friday is also the thirteenth of the month. Bad luck? Read the following lines and draw your own conclusion about such things.

Many people carry a rabbit's foot in their pocket for good luck. It is supposed to bring good luck, but did it bring good luck to the rabbit from which the foot came?

Friday is supposed to be such a bad day. Is there a day which we students would rather see? T.G.I.F. clubs prove that point.

What's wrong with the number thirteen? Many great athletes wear it. How about the thirteen colonies? Where would we be if they hadn't been as lucky as they were?

Race drivers seldom drive a green car. They say that green means death. If they would look around their back yards they would see that green means life. Even their toothpaste is that color for the life of their teeth.

It's a pretty careless person who would walk under a painter on a ladder. That makes sense. It also makes sense to avoid black cats. Cold statistics show that many are skunks. You are also smart not to open an umbrella in a room. It is sometimes quite a task to get out of the door if you do.

We all know that an itchy nose means that we are going to have a fight. That is clear to see. An itchy nose is usually followed by a sneeze, and who wouldn't start a

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

Ursinus students again made a fine record by the way they cooperated in making the last visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile a success. Exactly 100 pints were obtained, and practically all of these were donated by faculty and students. Officials remarked that in contrast to similar and larger institutions, Ursinus consistently produces an excellent record.

I wish to express personal thanks to Fayne Elsesser and Jack Aregood for their efficient leadership in the drive, and to the fraternities, sororities and individuals who helped.

fight if someone sneezed down their neck.

And in conclusion, if you believe that dropping a knife means that you will have company, you could very easily be correct. However, the "company" is quite likely to be a doctor who has come to put a stitch in your foot wound. Beware of these "crazy, mixed-up superstitions!"

Unexpected Snow Causes Unusual Weekend Antics

Snowed in at Ursinus! This was an unusual week-end — to say the least, Jack Frost altered the schedule of events at bit with his unexpected blanket of white.

Friday morning the optimists who left their winter apparel at home started to squirm a bit as the beautiful white flakes came floating down, and by afternoon people with no boots experienced that sensation which only cold, soggy feet can give. The owner of a couple warm coats soon found that they were very much in demand. In one dorm girls went out in shifts — due to a shortage of boots.

Snowball Battles Begin

After supper Friday evening snowballs flew at the door of the upper dining room, and only a few hardy souls succeeded in descending the icy steps without getting "collobbered." There were a few shrewd fellows in the crowd though. They helped the preceptresses down the icy steps. And they didn't get bombarded with snowballs either. Can't imagine why?

Friday night the spirit committee issued "rain checks" for their evening of barbershop quartet music, and those who ventured to the gym danced to records. Also, Friday night—just to do something different—the boys of 724 had a snowball battle. It is said that Mizz Test and an accomplice goaded them into it.

Saturday morning found all the conscientious citizens of Collegeville out shoveling their walks. Among these were Dr. Yost and Dr. Staiger. However, Dr. Staiger also threw a few snowballs and built an igloo. For Roger?? Funny what snow does to people.

Another Snow Battle

An enthusiastic group of sophomores got up for breakfast Saturday morning and engaged in a bit of rivalry with the precipitation—that is, another snowball battle. They must have awakened a few of the sleeping beauties in Free-land because one stuck his head out of the window and yelled, "Why don't you girls go home? You make me cold." To this the girls replied with a volley of snowy ammunition.

Kathy Wagner and one or two other "polar bears" braved the storm to mail laundry cases at the post office. Doreen Witmer tried an ingenious trick; she wore plastic bags on her feet because she had no boots. Try that one some time. It's a great idea as long as the bags last, isn't it Doreen?

Tour Cancelled

Because the registrar's office had planned a tour for some high school girls, residents of Shreiner, Hobson and Duryea were asked to get up bright and early and prepare their rooms for inspection. Imagine going through all that and then learning that the tour was cancelled.

Saturday noon there was a snowball battle to end all snowball battles—great armies charging at each other. Even Dean Pancoast didn't manage to avoid the flying missiles. Ted Clark made a bull's eye—or perhaps he missed his original target. Dean Stahr was also on the wrong end of a snowball—if snowballs have ends—much to Butch Helfferich's consternation. Mrs. Baird avoided being hit by hiding behind Miss Stahr.

With all of Ursinus here for the noon meal Saturday, Harry Hance had quite a time getting everyone served. When she found that there was no waiter for her table, Nancy Evans got up and served. That's one way to get your lunch.

Sculpture in Snow

Since the football game was called off, the freshmen in Shreiner entertained themselves by doing a darling snow sculpture of an Ursinus bear, with Helen Stephens as head sculptor. Mr. Jones liked the bear so much that he planted an Ursinus flag by its side, and took a colored slide. There were also a few other snow sculptures around (I use the term loosely) including those at Clamer, South, and one on the old soccer field.

Snow and slush didn't keep anyone away from the Penthouse Serenade Saturday night, but a few Sir Galahads had to carry their dates into the dance. Here's hoping the heavyweights wore boots. Due to inclement conditions a couple Hobson girls found that they couldn't get in on time.

Sunday morning found Joe Bintner shoveling out his car, and a bevy of females trying to keep their feet dry on the way to church.

Yes, this was an unusual week-end. We can't say we accomplished much, but we sure had fun.

I-F Council Adopts New Rule on Rushing

The Interfraternity Council is a representative organization which guides fraternity policy. The members are the presidents of each of the six fraternities and one other member from each fraternity. The following people belong to the council: Dan Schwenk and Jay Kern, Zeta Chi; Jack Popowich and Bob Criegler, Demas; Mike Van De Putte and Ed Dawkins, Beta Sigma Lambda; Howie Davis and Dick Baltz, Sigma Rho; Tap Webb and Earl Loder, Alpha Phi Epsilon; Ellsworth Faust and Bob Guth, Delta Pi Sigma. Howie Davis is president of the council.

An important but rather questionable rule was recently passed by the council. The rule states that: Men who have not been on campus for one rushing period, are ineligible to attend any fraternity function during that period, except a function to which the whole student body is invited. No fraternity may hold a function on Old Timers' Day to which the whole student body is invited. Any violation of this rule is to be considered a major offense of the rushing rules, and the fraternity is liable to a $50 fine and loss of rushing privileges for one year.

About the Belles

by Pat Garrow '54

Another All-College week-end has passed and everyone who worked for the success of the affair is looking back and wondering how she got everything done that she did. Despite the fact that the boys are grumbling because they were gyped out of their usual big headline, and that Temple copped more first team places than did the Belles, everyone concerned will probably admit that it was fun!

All perhaps, except Danny. Annette Dannehower, our collegiate coach, bore the entire responsibility for the organization of the tournament. She was assisted by the Women's Physical Education Department, but it was up to her to see that the schedules were made, that there was plenty of equipment available, that lunch tickets were distributed to the various teams, and numerous other items. As you can see, her title as chairman of the All-College Hockey Tournament involved a great amount of work, and even though it was considered a part of her self-help job, she deserves thanks for an excellent job.

Strode Leads Maintenance

Joan Strode was in charge of the field, maintenance and the Day Study. She was assisted by Sue Dawson, Ricky Bauser, Polly Taylor, Phyl Stadler, Nancy Craig, Faith Helmle, and Dotty McKnight. Timers and scorers were Vonnies Gros, Roxy Albertson, Carol King and Dotty McKnight.

At the registration table were Shirley Davis, Carolyn DeOlden and Faith Helmle. Assisting Teddy Rapp with the field and equipment were Patti Dandrea, Betty Tayes, Vonnies Gros, Jane Dunn, Lucy Fay, Dotty McKnight, Anne Schick and Sue Dawson.

Bream Heads Art Staff

On the art staff which made the posters seen about campus were Tookie Bream, chairman; Steve Stoneback, Carol Edwards, Jo Kuhn, Jen Price, Bev Syvertsen, Ruth Reeser, Marge Abrahamson, Marilyn Freeman, Teddy Rapp, Ruth Heller, Liz Mason, Kay Hood, Ginny Stecker, Pat Gorkes, Bunny Hockenbury and Shirley Davis.

Chairman of the decorations was Sue Holmes assisted by Betty Tayes, Marge Dawkins, Carol Adams, Ruth Heller, Carol Edwards and Chloe Oliver, while Nancy Laib, chairman of the concessions, was assisted by Bobbie Harris, Liz Mason and Tookie Bream. To Bunny Hockenbury goes credit for the Inquirer and Bulletin sports coverage of the tournament.

And last, but not least, the team managers, Agnes Murphy, Ginny Stecker, and Steve Stoneback, were responsible for many of the details.

Sidelights of the tournament include: Danny greeting her former charges who have matriculated at various colleges . . . Teddy Rapp clashing her cymbals to signal the beginning and end of games . . . the hockey team's most faithful fan, Dr. Calvin Yost, accompanied by his faithful dog, taking in all the Ursinus games and showing great interest in the outcome . . . and Ursinus' great showing in the tournament with special congratulations to Jen Price, Marge Merri-field and Miss Snell.

Soccer Team Loses To Haverford, 3-2

by Ismar Schorsch '57

The Ursinus soccer squad suffered its third successive defeat on Wednesday afternoon at the hands of a powerful Haverford aggregation by the count of 3-2 on the opponent's home field. However, in contrast with the previous two setbacks, this one saw the Bears play outstanding soccer all the way. The game became a pleasure to watch as two top flight teams performed with near perfection.

Fords Take Early Lead

The Fords took the lead in the first period as they cashed in on a free indirect penalty kick from the accurate toe of Barwick. But Ursinus evened the score in the following quarter via a beautiful kick by Ben Settles from the far right side of the field. Moving at top speed, he shot it by the opposing goalie. The Haverford boys recaptured the lead quickly though, when goalie Herb Knoll was drawn from his position, enabling Harrison to score.

Zartman Counters

The count remained 2-1 until the final ten minutes of the fourth period. At this stage Larry Zartman took a long boot from Gerry Cox, and put it away for a goal. But as the clock neared the two minute marker, Han Broekman kicked the ball past the diving Herb Knoll to secure a Haverford victory.

This contest was certainly characterized by hard-fought, clean, good soccer. In it Haverford showed why it is ranked as one of the best teams in the east, possessing now a log of five wins and one defeat. Nevertheless, the Bears still played their best soccer of the campaign with both offense and defense at top form. Their fine display may be attributed to the talk given by captain Zartman the past Monday concerning their recent play.

by Dick Bowman '55

A certain name has been cropping up repeatedly in the headlines of local and Philadelphia sports pages. That name belongs to an Ursinus halfback whose scoring accomplishments enable him to hold the number two position in the Philadelphia area. That player's name — Dick Glock! "Mr. T" has crossed the double stripe for six touchdowns and has added seven conversions to boost his point total to 43, and place him second to Fred Prender of West Chester State Teachers College.

Can Run, Pass, Kick

Mr. Glock's other gridiron feats include an average-per-carry mark of 5.68 yards and a total offense of 589 yards. Besides scoring six TD's the fleet griddier from Maywood, New Jersey, has passed for four more scores. As a passer Glock holds a percentage of .533, having hit on 8 of 15 aeriels. His scoring sprints include a 70 yard run back of an intercepted Haverford pass, a 37 yard dash against Swarthmore and a 46 yard rip through the middle of the Susquehanna line.

Helped by Forward Wall

Giving credit where credit is due, a big hand must be extended to the Grizzly forward wall for opening up those holes and throwing those downfield blocks. The key names to remember here are Frank Kolp and John Anderson. There is not a football player alive that can romp without those openings and blocks.

Glock is fortunate in having three other backfield mates that can be depended upon to provide a strong scoring threat and help draw the attention of the opposing linemen. Ben Maliken is a human bulldozer at fullback, just raring to explode for those important first downs when the going gets rough. John Conti is a scoring threat in any man's league, and his four-touchdown mark is fourth high in the Philadelphia area.

Conti is not as fast as Glock, but is crafty and shifty. His keen ability to follow a blocker is almost as good as his ability to drive defenders into the turf when hit. He's a really hard runner. The man to watch in any T-formation is the quarterback. Ursinus is fortunate in having two such able ball-handlers as Paul Neborak and Ken Walker. Both can throw well and Neborak is an excellent punter. Walker is a break-away runner first class, and once past the line of scrimmage, he is a hard man to catch.

With such a well rounded line and backfield, Ursinus should improve its already impressive 4-1 mark by upsetting the Juniata and Dickinson grid teams. And Glock, if he maintains his present torrid pace, might well bring that coveted Little-All-American honor to the Bruin campus. We sure hope so.

WSGA

WSGA-MSGA dance planned for this week-end. Someone suggested that a party instead of a dance would add variety to the social calendar. Jean Hain and Liz Weaver, who are in charge, are open to suggestions.

At long last the revised constitution will be printed. The WAA has its revised document prepared and both constitutions will be printed in the same book to defray expenses.

Tired of the rickety phonograph being used in the dining room? No more! Both student councils have voted $12.50 toward a new one to be used exclusively in the dining room. Records from the music room will be carefully selected and played at the correct volume. Several people reported hearing complaints about the music; that it was not suitable for dinner and that it was too loud. After all, "I'm My Own Grandpa" doesn't go too well with mashed potatoes and peas.

While we're on the subject of the music, let's consider the announcements. They've been cut out, at least that's what we're told. In the first place, many people are grumbling about missing meetings. Some people really enjoyed the announcements and prefer them to music. Still others suggest that some uniformity be adopted to arrange a suitable system which would be beneficial.

Read only those announcements which concern meetings not scheduled on the calendar.

Limit announcements to the basic facts and omit lists of names, details generally known, and unimportant trivialities.

Allow announcements to refer to notices or lists posted on the bulletin boards.

Limit announcements for campus affairs to brief remarks.

Perhaps in this way everyone can be taken care of. Those who are interested can hear the announcements and we can have music for a greater part of the meal.

It was rather awkward this year when freshman men were freed from customs while the girls still had to wear their dinks and name tags another week. Granted, the entire program was thrown out of kilter because Old Timers' Day arrived earlier than usual, and the MSGA voted to standardize that day of the great announcement. So freshman men were free and the girls were not. The council voted to end customs each year on the same day as the men.

It was also discussed whether the sophomore class or the WSGA should receive the profit from the freshman dinks. The WSGA has always received the girls' profits because the girls customs committee is a committee of the WSGA. Further discussion will be held to decide whether the sophomore class should receive the profit or whether the Student Council should.

Frosh Elect Representatives

On Friday, November 6, the Freshmen held elections for their representatives to MSGA for this year. Bruce Holcombe and Dave McLaughlin were elected. Bruce is from Philadelphia and was active in his student council in high school. He was also editor of his year book; he plans to go into radio work after graduation. Dave is from Haddon Heights, N. J., where he played football and wrote for the newspaper. He plans to go into business after graduation.

A letter of apology has been sent to Swarthmore College by MSGA for the disgraceful action of Ursinus students at the Swarthmore football game. It seems that before the game, Ursinus students crashed the gate and made their way into the game, and it is possible that some of our students were responsible for the goal posts being broken. In the past Ursinus has had better relations with Swarthmore than with any other college. We would hate to see these relations ended. Breaking into a game is certainly not a gentleman's trick, and a broken goal post costs money. Spirit is wonderful, but it's one thing; destruction is another.
